Representative Britten in letter to Chairman Farley of Shipping Board protested against the use of French menus on American ships.

Washington, Oct. 7.—Representative Fred A. Britten, Republican, Illinois, recently returned from Europe on the Leviathan, has undertaken leadership of a new crusade. He would Americanize the French menus on American ships.

The Chicago Congressman says that any one who knows Paris understands what a "cocotte" is, but that "coquettish eggs at 40 cents seems too good to be true."

In a letter to Chairman Farley of the United States Shipping Board, Representative Britten appeals for the discharge of French menus from American liners.

PRINTED IN FRENCH
"I hope you will pardon my plebeian taste," wrote Mr. Britten, "for calling to your attention a condition aboard the S. S. Leviathan, which, to say the least, is subject to a great amount of ridicule. The menu in the Ritz-Carle is printed in French, and only in a foreign language, necessitating the constant attendance of an interpreter, as only a portion of the waiters and not 2 per cent of the passengers can read them."

Even the head waiter apologized to me for his failure to properly interpret an order of "galette d'ail, boulangere." When I asked a waiter to bring me a "galette d'ail, boulangere," he said, "I am in doubt whether to take"

DONUS COST ESTIMATED

Legion Is Hopeful of Passage

Would Add Four Billion to National Debt, Is View of Expert Conference Board Dwells on Measure's Effect on Taxation

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Public interest in various phases of the agitation for a soldiers' bonus has been greatly aroused by the assurance from the American Legion in Washington that the bonus legislation in similar form to that voted by President Harding would be enacted by the next Congress. Officials of the National Industrial Conference Board, New York, who recently concluded an economic survey of the bonus situation, report data based upon its researches and checked up by the United States Treasury Department which show that the total cost of the four suggested plans of adjusted bonus compensation will be in the neighborhood of four billion dollars.

If the American Legion is correct in its assurance that a bonus law will pass even over President Coolidge's veto, a sum estimated at $3,846,659,841 will be added to the national debt, the conference board points out.

FOUR PLANS OF AWARD
Under the four alternative plans of award, the board finds that the cost to the people of the United States would be in each case as follows. If all the veterans elected to accept the same plan:

Adjusted service pay, $1,495,000,000.
Farm home land plan, $1,838,000,000.
Vocational training plan, $2,993,000,000.
Certificate plan, $4,486,659,841.

Estimates as fixed by the United States Senate Finance Committee and quoted by the conference board show a probable acceptance of the various plans as follows:

Twenty-five per cent under certificate plan, $2,489,651.
Twenty-two and one-half per cent under farm home land plan, $2,325,000,000.
Cash payments, $16,000,000.
Total cost, $2,846,659,841.

TAXES RAISED
Of this $1,136,741,670 would have to be met by taxation or by loans in the next twenty years. The balance of $2,709,917,171 would be paid by 1945. The effect of the bonus would be to add to the debt of the United States twenty years hence a sum equivalent to $1,136,741,670.

According to treasury estimates made independently of the estimates of the Senate Finance Committee, the outlay for payment on account of the bonus would amount to $145,000,000 in the first year; $225,000,000 in the second year; $114,000,000 in the third year; $121,000,000 in the fourth year.

These figures exclude of course an average annual cost of many millions in administering the provisions of the measure.

In addition the annual interest charges which will be saddled on the treasury when final payment is made in 1945, after making estimated at $108,000,000 of $145,000,000, according to which of the various plans is adopted. The question is raised therefore, whether Federal government balance its budget and continue to reduce its public debt, or whether it will recognize its obligations in connection with the support of disabled veterans and still be in a position to make an

HENS WORK ON DESPITE GAGS

Set Record While Why of Street Crossing Goes Unsolved

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Musty jokes are sprung at the expense of the little old hen and her reasons for crossing the road still remain a mystery. Likewise, there is the age-old question as to whether or not she or the egg came first, but the cold statistics show that she and her sisters in the United States contributed more than a billion dollars to the national wealth this year.

These facts were given out in advance of the annual meeting of the National Poultry, Butter and Egg Association to be held here this week.

WADDELL VIOLINS IN NEW YORK

Collection From England Contains Famous "Betts" Stradivarius

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Two of the finest violins in the world are in America today after much subterfuge used to get them out of England.

J. C. Freeman, manager of a music store, brought them over after having changed his passage a week ago from the Mauretania in the world's most famous order to avoid trouble threatened by the London instrument dealers and quoted by the conference board the discovery that the Waddell collection was about to leave England for America.

The two violins which he guarded closely were the "Betts" Stradivarius, one of the four finest Stradivarius violins in the world, and the "Guerrieri," Charles A. Read, the novelist, described the "Betts" as a violin, a picture and a miracle all in one.

Both instruments belonged to the collection of R. D. Waddell, a Glasgow meat packer. In this collection the finest in private hands and several other famous instruments.

The price paid for the collection was $150,000 and the purchase was the largest transaction in musical instruments in history. The 200 other violins were bought by Mr. Freeman in London, France and England. The price for the lot, including the Waddell collection is said to be about $400,000.

SARANAP, Oct. 7.—Incensed because of the actions of an unidentified buzzard, which insists on meeting all trains, a delegation of citizens started a drive to remove the volunteer reception committee on the ground that it was a bad "ad" for the town.

The buzzard appears about train time, circles several times and comes to roost on a fence rail near the railroad track.

Saranap boosters charge that the buzzard has been trained to "do his stuff" by a rival town, jealous of Saranap's growth during the past year.

The Philippine Islands must have development to obtain the money necessary for schools, roads and other public works which all Filipinos desire, he asserted. PRIEST KILLED AT ALTAR

BY RIVAL PASTOR'S WIFE

Woman Kneeling in Confessional Fires Fatal Bullets as Worshipers Gather

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Wrought up to the point of murder over a fancied wrong to her husband, a Greek Catholic priest in Remey, Pa., a wrong which forced him to abandon a parish in Chicago and go to Remey, Mrs. Emily Strutytsky, 44 years of age, shot and killed Rev. Basil Stetsuk, 36 years of age, as she knelt before him at the altar of St. Michaels Greek Catholic Church to make a confession this morning.

Three hundred horrified worshippers witnessed the tragedy. Mrs. Strutytsky walked down the aisle before the 9 o'clock mass to the altar. She knelt before the priest at the side of the altar in full view of the congregation as though to give a confession. Instead, however, she drew a heavy-calibered revolver from the folds of her dress and fired two shots into the face of the priest standing before her. The priest started to escape and she fired three more shots. Two of the bullets entered his head, one his hip and one pierced his heart.

ANTIJAZZ POTION IS PREPARED

Philharmonic Society to Educate Youth of Gotham Against Crude Rhythms

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—As a tonic against jazz music, directors of the Philharmonic Society planned a program for the orchestra aided by distinguished soloists in bringing good music to students of the graded and high schools. Lecturers and concert artists are planned to cooperate with the American Orchestral Society and the Board of Education.

Members of the orchestra will be given as music teachers. Daniel Gregory Mason will lecture at various school centers on orchestral work, treating the subject historically from Handel to Richard Strauss. Instructions will be given that have been reserved for special students of the conservatory.

These plans, supplementing the regular season of seventy concerts, have been approved by Clarence H. Mackay, chairman of the board of directors of the Philharmonic Society; Frederick A. Jullif, president, and Mrs. E. H. Harrison, chairman of the educational committee of the society. Special student concerts are to be given in the pastures of the conservatory.

On the occasions of the ordinary price of these concerts will be given on Monday evenings, all at Carnegie Hall, with William Van Hoogstraten, Henry Hadley and William Menckler alternating as soloists. HYPOCRITE, SHE SAYS
"But he lied," sobbed the hysterical woman. "He was a hypocrite. On the outside he was nice to my husband and myself, but out of our sight he told people my husband was stealing from his church. The truth is he was doing the stealing and to save his congregation from him, I killed him."

She said that after the death of Bishop Stefan Letinsky, Greek Catholic Bishop in Philadelphia, Father Stetsuk had circulated reports that the bishop had appropriated part of it to his own use.

In the woman's room at the Stetsuk hotel, the following unedited letter which has a bearing on the case:

"I am sure he was a hypocrite, the greatest we can imagine. He used all means and all ways to win the people's sympathy and confidence. He treated them with sweetened words. He could preach in church in a way that caused people to cry afterwards. Some of the girls went to the madhouse on account of his preaching and religious influence."

HER SECOND ATTEMPT
Mrs. Strutytsky came to Chicago from Remey a week ago Friday, she told the police, with the avowed purpose of slaying Father Stetsuk. She went to the church last Sunday, she said, but the opportunity was not there, so she returned this morning.

Mrs. Strutytsky went into the church, witnessed said, heavily veiled, and walked directly up to the altar and then to the right, where the confessional box is located. Soon after she knelt in front of the priest, the congregation began to sing and their priest began to pray. "Oh, God help me," bleeding from the mouth he ran around the side of the altar down the middle aisle to the steps of the church where he collapsed.

Two women members of the congregation leaped upon Mrs. Strutytsky as she ran from behind the altar, after holding the pistol in her right hand. Meanwhile other members of the congregation had called for an ambulance to take the priest to a hospital. But he died.

is said to have the loudest voice in all the Northwest."

Senator Johnson returned today from his visit to New York and Washington and will address the Executive Club Friday. He is in favor of closer cooperation among existing agencies and efforts toward price stabilization, rather than establishment of new governmental agencies of control.

SET OWN PRICE
"Lower freight rates and cheaper credit I have heard discussed at great length," said Senator Johnson, "and there is little question that these things will relieve the farmer in a great measure, but real relief will come only when the farmer himself, and not the business man and manufacturer, receives the price for the things he produces."

"Stabilizing, not only of wheat, but of all farm products should be the government's first effort toward farmer relief. When I say stabilization, I mean for a period of three or more years. All these things suggested to President Coolidge in my talks with him."

Senator Johnson cited the Producers Alliance of Minnesota as an example of a "farmers' organization that will spread" and which will enable the producer to set his own price on what he produces.
Just as the city man does on the things he manufactures.

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN
The Senator declined to make the nature of the business deal that will occupy his attention tomorrow saying:
"I will talk no politics tomorrow my subject will be cooperative marketing." Cooperative marketing, he explained, means the "Producers Alliance of Minnesota in putting its price on its product."

Tokio Underworld Preyed on Disaster Victims

Graphic Story of Fire Told by Eyewitness

Many Threw Themselves Into Flames in Despair

The second of a series of articles on the recent Japanese earthquake, written by Alfred E. Pieres, newspaper man who was in Tokio at the time of the cataclysm, is given below. The first of the series appeared in The Times of yesterday. Others will follow.

BY ALFRED E. PIERES, (LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.)

TOKIO, Sept. 1.—Six large public hostilities, the Imperial Hotel and the Tokio Station Hotel alone are standing as a result of the mighty temblor. The Imperial Hotel, designed and put under the supervision of Frank Lloyd Wright, an American architect, withstood the earthquake heat of all the buildings in Tokio, and is a tribute to the designer. The Tokio Station Hotel, situated just above the Central Railway Station, although by no means a recently-erected structure, went through the terrible ordeal creditably. In the case of both these structures, the fire stopped within a few feet of them.

In view of the fact that the government is likely to regulate the rooms of both these hotels for carrying on the affairs of state, the probabilities are that they will be closed to the general public for some time—possibly for a period of a year, or for six months at least. The foreign community of Tokio and most of the Japanese of the upper social strata have made the Imperial Hotel their headquarters where they remained until rescued and taken aboard English, French or American vessels, mostly the latter.

The American Embassy was razed to the ground, but "business as usual" is transacted in a room of the Imperial Hotel. The British Embassy was also wrecked beyond recognition, both by the quake and afterward by fire and is located in the Imperial Hotel. A huge American flag and as large a Union Jack fly above the location of the respective embassies.

A dramatic fact about the burning of the United States Embassy was that the Stars and Stripes, which was flying at this time, he bought in honor of the birthday of the Emperor of Japan and had not been hauled down, kept fluttering bravely while all else around was fast crumbling to decay before a devouring sea of fire. The flames gradually reached the little green mound where the flag-pole was being, but before it reached the pole, a Japanese servant attached to the Embassy saved Old Glory. That same banner now flies at the newly established Embassy in the Imperial Hotel.

TERRIBLE SCENES

As the shades of dusk crept on, Tokio or the greater, and by far the richer, part of the city presented a sorrowfully, magnificent sight. The sky was lit up for miles around and the hissing of the angry flames, breathing defiance and scorn at the weak streams of water that the fire-fighters were able to direct against them, was the predominant note throughout the night, occasionally broken by the cries of women, the agonized tones of a mother calling for her heart's best beloved, a nerve-racked girl shaking with sobs at the thought of having lost her family and the wailing of infants. Seas of flames enveloped the city, vomiting a pall of dense black smoke that covered all Tokio with a somber shroud, a gloomy foreboding of what the fire meant to reduce Tokio to, when it had finished with the work of destruction it had embarked on earlier in the afternoon. Devastation had now spread far and wide. At Nihon-bashi, the hub of commercial activities in Tokio which is now a complete wilderness of charred embers, broken wires, bent steel rods and twisted beams, a poor correspondent could hardly keep pace with the flames, the fire gaining ground faster than he could walk. The crackling noise of the fire would occasionally cease when the flames had alighted upon some particular edifice, and a brick building. The fire would lick it hungrily on all sides, eat into it from the inside, till finally the shell, bereft of all support, would crash to the ground and the flames would hiss reluctantly as they spread their tentacles further. One of the most thrilling sights was that of an elevated railway bridge on fire, the half-moon shaped culverts of which were individual lakes of glowing fire. The immensity of the catastrophe beggars actual or adequate description.

PLIGHT OF THE VICTIMS

Several foreigners in Tokio, including many women, lost absolute everything. For the last three nights all have been sleeping in the courtyard fronting the Imperial Hotel. Fear of possible subsequent shocks has prevented even the most reckless from going to rest underneath a roof. The men, for the most part, lay down on the gravel walk or on the stone roadway leading to the hotel, fully dressed, and with no pillow or blanket. What blankets and pillows were given by the hotel were turned over to the women and children.

The plight of the unfortunate Japanese was much worse. The parks were full of fugitives. Premature births took place all over the city. Many men and women, maddened by the tremendous losses they had sustained, leaped into the roaring seas of fire. Thousands of men, women and children fled, half-clothed, to open spaces, preferably the entrance to the wide stretch of ground between the Nijo-Bashi (the Twin Bridges at the entrance to the Imperial Palace) and Babasaki-mon, the wide roadway leading in the direction of the Nijo-Bashi. Temple and school grounds were avoided on account of possible return quakes and because of the danger of fire getting these buildings sooner or later.

As hour succeeded hour, the sight of Tokio abiding on all sides as far as the eye could reach was awe-inspiring and fear-inducing. The heat from the blazing town was intense and every puff of wind fanned the flames to greater fury, scattered a myriad sparks in all directions, everyone of them a potential firemaker and brought the unmistakable smell of burning bodies.

The civilian authorities were completely nonplussed. The police joined the citizens in gaping open-mouthed at the destruction of their city and their homes. The blow simply dazed everyone and the fire held them in a species of hypnotic inactivity. The fire-fighters were obviously disheartened and discouraged. People straggled along without order or leadership. Thick black dust powdered the refugees adding to their disordered appearance.

WORK OF THE UNDERWORLD

After wandering about the burning streets for some time your correspondent, whose plight is mentioned merely because it is typical of that of scores of hundreds of others, sat down to rest on the stone flags in front of the Imperial Hotel, weary in body and exhausted by the experiences he had gone through in the space of a few crowded hours. Drinking water was scarce and the intense heat forced him to slake his thirst occasionally from the moat that encircles Tokio. It is, in reality, a veritable cesspool, or from the lotus pond in front of the hotel whose water, if analyzed, would have contained as much mud as potable water. But even for this small mercy I was thankful. Others did not even have that and many died of thirst.

About midnight came terrifying shrieks and yells from the direction of the Hibuya Park, which is just across the street from the Imperial Hotel, and in which thousands had taken hasty refuge. The shrieks emanated from women and were of a nature that made men's blood boil to think of what was going on there in the Syrian darkness and amid the overcrowded masses of refugees. The cries of young women were distinctly discernible, cries of terror, calling for help and pleading for aid. The scene was a picture of the pitiable and helpless situation of young girls who had sought the park to lay their weary heads on the ground and seek some solace after the terrible ordeal they had been subjected to all day and for a good portion of the evening. The police were nowhere to be seen. In fact, it is doubtful if the police could have done anything. The screams and yells in varying degrees of intensity, kept up insistently throughout the night, until the dawn lifted the curtains of dark-

Man Who Grew Rich on Claim in Klondike Arrested on Fraud Charge

(BY A ST. LOUIS WRITER.)

FRENO, Oct. 8.—Twenty-five years ago William G. Cheney drove cattle into the Klondike country. In eight days he made $2000. With half of this sum, he bought a claim. Gold from it brought him $2,000,000. He was then 43 years of age. Today he is 67 years of age, penniless and in jail.

A. A. Hopkins, special agent of the Department of Justice, arrested Cheney at Big Creek, the Southern California Edison camp in the High Sierras. He is wanted at Juneau, Alaska, Hopkins says, on a charge of having obtained money under false pretenses. His arrest on a fugitive warrant issued him in the Fresno County Jail.

United States Marshal Sid Shannon will take the aged man to Los Angeles where he will sail next week for Alaska.

"Bill Cheney never took a dishonest dime from anyone," the former prospector said. "I am a pauper and a millionaire told police officers here today."

HULL FULL OF OPTIMISM

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Edward F. Goltz, national committeeman from Missouri, chatted pleasantly with reporters last night, but did not discuss prohibition, the League of Nations or Democratic Presidential possibilities. Neither would Mr. Hull commit himself on Chicago's chances of obtaining the Democratic convention.

The Democratic national chief-tain was "willing and did express himself as being 'exceedingly optimistic' regarding the prospects of Democratic success in the oncoming Presidential election. He has been visiting about the country, he said, gathering the views and ideas of the State and county leaders of his party. He being with Mr. Goltz was due to a chance meeting in the Congress Hotel, and of no significance, both agreed.

"What will be the paramount issue in the next campaign," the interviewer ventured, other subjects having proved unfruitful.

"The high tariff, high prices of everything except farm products, high rents and the general high cost of living," was the reply.

"Then, too, the same old guard that controlled the government during the Taft administration, and that split the Republican party, is in control now, and five fold worse. The country pays each year $3,000,000,000 more than it should, due to high tariffs."

"Who gets that excess?" was asked.

"The manufacturers," the interviewer was told. "They contributed to the campaign and were allowed to write their own tariffs."

BUILDING ACTIVITY IS SEEN AT POMONA

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

POMONA, Oct. 7.—With fourteen permits valued at $30,120 taken out this week and two fair-sized ones to be taken out within the next few days, prospects for a large total are seen for the month. Among those issued by L. W. Cowles, building inspector, this week, seven were for homes, two of them being taken out today. The Potter Syndicate will take out a permit in a few days for the new community building to cost about $40,000, while F. W. Ritter & Co. will take out a permit next week for a $2000 office building at Rebecca and Second streets.

SWEET CORN PACK LIGHT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

DES MOINES, Oct. 7.—The season's pack of sweet corn by plants of the Iowa Nebraska Canners' Association was slightly more than 2,000,000 cases or nearly 1,000,000 bushels less than had been anticipated. This year's pack, however, was larger than that of 1922. Packers had 600 acres under contract. Frost damage curtailed the crop and caused a reduction in the pack.

Thermo Storage Heater

THE THERMO STORAGE HEATER is the safest heater. Our smallest boiler is of 10-gauge metal, while the larger are 14-in. thick. Other boilers are made of light-weight metal. The volume of gas used is exceptionally small—there is nothing to burn out or wear out—consequently it lasts longer and consumes less gas. It is time-proof and fool-proof—and you will find a greater efficiency and a greater satisfaction than in any other heater. Remember—it has a boiler that is Creeping forward on tiptoes, though their distant companions were making a tremendous row, they looked at the pirates with a mixture of awe and defiance as they peered across the open space, now brilliantly illuminated by the moon.

Jenks had a sudden intuition that the right thing to do now was to shoot the whole party. He dismissed the thought at once. All his preparations were governed by the hope that the pirates might abandon their quest after hours of fruitless search. It would be most unwise, he told himself, to precipitate hostilities. Far better avoid a conflict altogether, if that were possible, than risk the immediate discovery of his inaccessible retreat.

In other words he made a grave mistake, which shows how a man may err when over-awed by the danger of the woman he loves. The boat was the right one. By killing the Dyak leader he would have deprived the enemy of the dominating influence in his campaign of revenge. When the main body, already much perturbed by the unexpected intangibles which opened fire at them in the wood, arrived in Prospect Park to find only the dead bodies of their chief and his small force, their consternation could be turned into panic by a victorious bombardment from the rock.

Probably, in less than an hour after their landing, the whole tribe would have rushed pell-mell to the boats, cursing the folly which led them to this devil-haunted island. But it serves no good purpose to say what might have been. As it was the Dyaks, silent now and moving with the utmost caution, passed the well, and were about to approach the cave when one of them saw the house.

Instantly they changed their tactics. Retreating hastily to the shade of the opposite cliff, they seemed to await the coming of reinforcements. The sailor fancied that a messenger was dispatched by way of the north sands to hurry up the laggards, because the distant firing slackened, and, five minutes later, a fierce outbreak of yells among the trees to the right heralded a combined rush on the Belle Vue Castle.

The noise made by the savages was so great—the screams of bewildered children, the clashing of spears, the rattling of arrows—that Jenks was compelled to speak quite loudly when he said to Iris: "They must think we sleep soundly not to be disturbed by the volleys they have fired already."

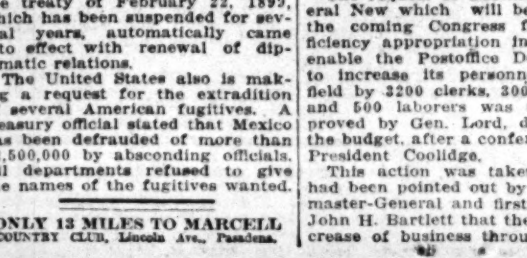

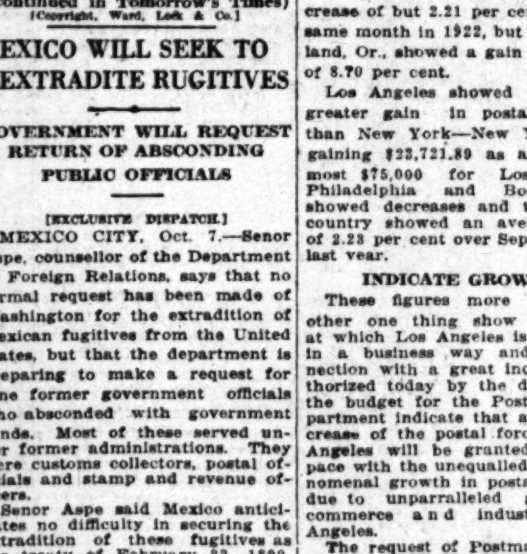

"What is it?" whispered Iris, eager herself to witness the tumult. "What has happened?" "They have been routed by a box of matches and a few dried bones," he answered. "There was no time for further speech. He was absorbed in estimating the probable number of the Dyaks. Thus far, he had seen about fifty. Moreover, he did not wish to acquire Iris with the actual details of the artifices that had been so potent. Her allusion to the boat of water-sodden fenders gave him the notion of utilizing as an active ally the scathed remains of the poor fellow who had long ago fallen a victim to this identical mob of cut-throats or their associates. He spoke a language of hard vowels and nasal resonance, and ate what he judged to be dry fish, millet, and strips of tough preserved meat, which they cooked on small iron skewers stuck among the glowing embers. His heart sank as he counted "sixty-one, all told, assembled within forty yards of the ledge. Probably several others were guarding the boats or prowling about the island. Indeed, events proved that more than eighty men had come ashore in three large sampans, roomy and fleet craft, well fitted for piratical excursions up river estuaries or along a coast."

MEXICO WILL SEEK TO EXTRADITE RUGGIVES
GOVERNMENT WILL REQUEST RETURN OF ABSCONDING PUBLIC OFFICIALS
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch) SENOR ASPE, counselor of the Department of Foreign Relations, says that no formal request has been made of Washington for the extradition of Mexican fugitives from the United States, but that the department is preparing to make a request for nine former government officials who absconded with government funds. Most of these served under former administrations. They were customs collectors, postal officials and stamp and revenue officers.

SENOR ASPE said Mexico anticipates no difficulty in securing the extradition of these fugitives as the treaty of February 22, 1899, which has been suspended for several years, automatically came into effect with renewal of diplomatic relations. The United States also is making a request for the extradition of several American fugitives. A treasury official stated that Mexico has been defrauded of more than $2,500,000 by the great in-laws of the fugitives wanted. All departments refused to give the names of the fugitives wanted.

CITY POSTAL GAIN IS HUGE

Percentage Increase Here Greatest in Country; Amount Exceeded Only By Chicago

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Los Angeles led all the cities of the United States in gain in postal receipts, except Chicago, and in percentage far exceeded even the second city in the country. For September of 1923 Los Angeles gained over the same month of 1922, $74,965.40, or 16.55 per cent. San Francisco showed a gain of $11,941.97—an increase of but 2.21 per cent. Seattle gained in this September over the same month in 1922, but $807.82—a gain of only 4.92 per cent. Portland, Ore., showed a gain in the same period of $17,670.48—an increase of 8.70 per cent.

Los Angeles showed even a greater gain in postal receipts than New York—New York only gaining $23,721.89 as against almost $75,000 for Los Angeles. Philadelphia and Boston both showed decreases and the whole country showed an average gain of 2.23 per cent over September of last year.

These figures more than any other thing show the pace at which Los Angeles is traveling in a business way and in connection with a great increase in postal receipts. The director of the budget for the Postoffice Department indicates that a large increase in postal receipts for Los Angeles will be granted to keep pace with the unequalled and phenomenal growth in order to enable the Postoffice Department to increase its personnel in the field by 250 clerks, 2500 carriers and 500 laborers was today approved by Gen. Lord, director of the budget, after a conference with Postmaster-General.

TODAY'S LABORITE SESSION TO BE HOT

PRELIMINARY WORK DISPATCHED AT PORTLAND CONFAB OF FEDERATION

(BY A. P. MOYER WIRE)
PORTLAND (Or.) Oct. 7.—Delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor rested from their work today and sought recreation in a tour over the Columbia River Highway. Automobiles to carry them were furnished by members of civic organizations and other citizens and several hundreds of the visitors took advantage of the opportunity for a ride to Multnomah Falls and other points.

Preliminary work of the convention was brought to a close with yesterday's sessions, and tomorrow, with the presentation of the report of the committee on resolutions, it is forecast that the flood of resolutions will be loosed on the convention floor.

Chief interest in the resolutions centers in three proposals—in endorsement of the Farmer-Labor political party, declaration for the one-big-union plan of organization and the urging upon the Federal government of recognition of Soviet Russia. The administration headed by President Samuel Gompers, opposes all three of these measures. Friends of that group openly predicted that all three of the proposals will be defeated. Gompers did not participate in today's tour of the highway. He spent the day at Seaside, it was announced, in an effort to gain needed rest.

THIS IS FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

FIRE costs America $1,300,000 and 47 lives each business day, and "America" means you and me. We all pay the bill!

Remember this—two out of every three fires are preventable—are the result of carelessness.

Our fire loss per year is nearly four dollars for every man, woman and child in this country, while that of Great Britain is only seventy-two cents! Why? Largely because as a nation we have not yet learned to be sure that our matches and cigarettes are out—to keep our homes, stores and factories neat and clean, free from rubbish—to build wisely—to inspect our premises frequently and to invest a reasonable amount of our time and money towards stopping fires before they start.

This is Fire Prevention Week. It is a time to give serious thought to the condition of your home and your place of business—to make them safer—less likely to burn, and to resolve that your fellow citizens will never suffer loss because of your carelessness.

WIDENING OF STREET EXPLAINED

Santa Monica to Add in Rear for Land Cut off in Front of Lots

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SANTA MONICA, Oct. 7.—Explanation of how Main-street property holders will acquire the land needed to widen their street has been made by C. C. Doran, chairman of the Main-street committee, who says that this is the first proceeding of its kind ever recorded in the State.

Street widening by city purchase is common in California, but in this instance property owners are buying land to widen their own lots reduced by land taken for the street. They will purchase from the Pacific Electric Railway in the rear of Main street at the west end of their lots.

The plan as outlined by Mr. Doran, provides that property owners who own a lot on Main street, if any lot owner does not buy within the specified time, contiguous lot owners will be given an opportunity to do so in an order stipulated by the committee.

If any property holder lacks the money with which to make the purchase for widening purposes, the bank will advance the loan, if any lot owner does not buy within the specified time, contiguous lot owners will be given an opportunity to do so in an order stipulated by the committee.

GOLD BY THE SHOVELFUL

Anaheim Man Tells of 1600-Acre Lease Near Phoenix That is Full of Pay Dirt

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ANAHEIM, Oct. 7.—Bringing with him a story of "gold by the shovelful and pay dirt everywhere," Harry D. Riley, prominent local business man, has returned from Wickenburg, Ariz., where he went with W. M. Bender of Montebello to inspect a 1600-acre placer mine lease.

Riley said that the owner of the property, who is anxious to develop it, offered to pay $100 for every shovelful of dirt, picked at any point on the 1600 acres, in which there was not a showing of gold. Eight tests were made at various points, and every test showed free gold in the contents of the shovel.

Many interesting characters were seen by Riley on the trip. He was especially interested in the appearance of a number of prospectors, who still hunt the old-time, abandoned mining camps and workings of nearly a generation ago. These men, with their gaunt, unshaven faces, matted hair and stooped shoulders and accompanied by the traditional burro, have spent their lives on the desert and in the great, rugged, dry hills which border the Colorado wastes. They never cease hunting for gold, and apparently are content with their faithful donkeys.

One prospector was a woman, who had spent many years in the desert. She is well educated, Riley said, and is secretary of three mining companies with workings on the Colorado wastes. Tales of the old deserted mining towns, especially Wickenburg, which once boasted a population of nearly thirty thousand but which now is a settlement of fifty residents, were told by Riley. The town of Wickenburg, which was a "diver," was a "diver."

Leaving the railroad at Congress Junction, north of Phoenix, the party traveled across rocks, through sagebrush and up and down dry creek beds to the old mining town of Wickenburg, which was a "diver." Two days were required to make the return trip.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 7.—State societies and fraternal organizations numbering more than sixty have signed their intention of participating in the carnival and State Festival being arranged for Long Beach by business men's organizations here on November 10. Two parades will be a feature of the celebration. Luncheon clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are preparing plans for floats. The night parade will be in the nature of a decorated float. The Pacific Fleet and the Army will take part. It was said today by Mr. Dobson.

There will be a yacht regatta, a boat race, a swimming contest, a horse race, a golf and tennis tournament. The night parade will be a feature of the celebration. Luncheon clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations are preparing plans for floats. The night parade will be in the nature of a decorated float. The Pacific Fleet and the Army will take part. It was said today by Mr. Dobson.

Declares Husband Sold Bonds for Friend and Turned Over Money

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 7.—That Peter Ardinghe, assistant manager of the National City Company, held under arrest in New York charged in connection with the theft of $100,000 bonds which he sold, is the victim of misplaced friendship, is declared by Mrs. Ardinghe, his wife, who is spending the winter at Montecito, home of her father, Andrew E. Aeb, retired banker.

Ardinghe, says his wife, received the bonds from a trusted friend, a man high in the financial affairs of the country, but whose name she refused to divulge, who wanted to realize on them immediately, so that he could pay for his son's education. He said that when word was received that the bonds had been sold, he was told that the bonds had been sold to a man named "X" and that he was to take them into custody as he stepped from the train there.

Police, who were called in by Kelly, found the confession from Talbot and Kelly's operations, police declare.

ANAHEIM, Oct. 7.—It's dangerous to be either a hunter or an animal in Trabuco and Bell canyons.

William Waller, rancher on the Trabuco Mesa, is authority for the statement and he makes the fate of a hog, a mule and a goat as proof.

"There has been much careless shooting by deer hunters this year," said Waller. "It's a wonder somebody hasn't been killed. The hog got his because a hunter thought the hog was a deer. The mule was found dead in Trabuco Canyon with a bullet hole through his head. About all the poor mule had done was to shake a limb as he passed a tree, and some hunter whanged away."

"The goat was killed by a hunter who was out to shoot things with horns."

Eminent Bishops Officiate at Impressive Ceremony

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Oct. 7.—With hundreds of citizens, city officials, and visiting churchmen attending, impressive services were conducted at the All Saints' Episcopal Church this afternoon when the corner-stone of the beautiful new edifice was laid by two prominent Episcopalians.

Heralded by the Knights Templar band, the congregation assembled on the North Euclid-avenue site where the $250,000 structure is being erected. Hymns were sung by members of the parish and the creed recited prior to the ritual of the corner-stone laying.

Bishop Joseph Horford Johnson, head of the diocese of Los Angeles, and Rt. Rev. W. Bertram Stevens, bishop coadjutor, laid the stone after brief addresses. William F. Knight, senior warden of the church, placed the box of treasured articles in the stone. Hiram W. Wadsworth, chairman of the Pasadena City Board of Directors, then delivered one of the principal addresses of the afternoon.

CLERGYMEN SPEAK

Other speakers were Oscar W. Swanson, eminent commander, Pasadena Commandery Knights Templar; Rev. William MacCormick, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, of Los Angeles, and Rev. J. D. H. Brown, editor of The Churchman, official organ of the diocese of Los Angeles. Bishop Johnson concluded the services with a prayer.

Rev. Leslie E. Learned, who for the last fifteen years has been the rector of the Pasadena All Saints' Episcopal Church, was in charge. He was assisted by William F. Knight and John B. Johnson, wardens of the church. The treasurer of the vestry, Lafayette S. Porter, clerk, A. Steven Hall, and W. H. Allen.

SURMOUNTED BY TOWER

The new church is being built of steel and granite and will be surmounted by a huge tower which will be the outstanding feature of the exterior appearance. The interior will be spacious, finished in marble, Caen stone and red tile. The aisles will be of tile.

There will be a chapel in the west wing of the main building, which will be a memorial to Mrs. Harriet Ada Webb, member of the church, who died last year. The new church is being erected in the parish house. Later the church will be used as Sunday-school rooms.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN DIEGO, Oct. 7.—Work on the most modern croesetting plant in the country for the treatment of railroad ties is well under way. The National City and the establishment, representing an outlay of $275,000, will be operating by January 1, according to D. L. Murray, superintendent in charge of the project. The tie plant is one of several planned by the Santa Fe Railway in its announced program of expansion here.

The plant will employ between 200 and 250 men. All of the ties and timber used on the Santa Fe's western division will be treated at the National City plant and an immense amount of material is being assembled. By January 1 it is expected 30,000 feet of lumber will be stacked in the material yards here, representing an investment of $200,000. The ties and bridge timbers season rapidly in this climate and will be ready for croesetting treatment as needed. The plant will consume more than 2,000,000 gallons of croesetting annually, which is shipped in tankers from Europe and costs the company 25 cents a gallon here.

Wells of the Oil Wells and Their Products; Mine and Oil Notes From Far and Near

TWENTY WELLS STARTED

Development is So Fast at Torrance Equipment Lies Around Waiting for Rigging Crews

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

TORRANCE, Oct. 7.—Apparently enthused over recent developments here, oil companies and private individuals started twenty new wells during the past week. This is the largest number ever started here in any one week. So fast was the work that the equipment of the rigging crews was swamped with work, and the close of the week found timbers and stacks of lumber strewn over many locations, waiting for rig-building crews.

Activity centered around the Fortuna oil well, which two weeks ago proved up a large additional area to the south, and the United States Royalties well on Carson street, which put the northern section of the field back on its feet again. Nine of the new wells were in a radius of two blocks of the Fortuna well and were started by the Southern California Drilling Company, Fortuna Oil Company, (two) Bush & Voorhes, C. C. Julian, Joseph B. Dabney, Barr Drilling Company, Belridge Oil Company and Star Petroleum.

TO START OPERATIONS
The Chanol-Carroll Midway, whose big lease extends for more than a mile along the south side of Carson street, has started an effort to the Star Petroleum well and expects to start operations at once.

WELLS CLOSE TOGETHER
From the "Four Corners" west for a distance of about half mile on both sides of the old Long Beach-Redondo Boulevard there is a virtual one well to every 300 feet, and in some cases the wells are much closer together. It is one of the most intensively drilled sections of the field. In this section the Petroleum Midway, Chanol-Carroll Midway and Belridge Oil Company have three wells within a day or so of the oil sand, and the Midway Northern expects to have its No. 2 well on production within the next week or ten days if the water shut-off is found all right.

NEW WELLS IN SIGNAL HILL

Increase of Seven During Week Adds 11,500 Barrels a Day to Total Production

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Oct. 7.—Seven new wells added a total of 11,500 barrels a day to the daily production of Signal Hill during the week ending Saturday, while a large number of additional wells were being prepared for bringing in.

OUTPUT OF LEASE
With the bringing in of Harlow-Kent No. 4, the total production from the Harlow-Kent lease, on which four wells are now producing, is given as 12,450 barrels a day.

ANOTHER PRODUCER
The Hall-Webster No. 2, at Hill street and Cherry avenue, joined the list of producers Friday when, after being placed on the pump, it flowed at the rate of about 500 barrels a day.

MAKES LARGE FLOW
The Foster well, located on the Garrison lease at Prospect street and California avenue, was brought in from the 4000-foot level and made an initial flow estimated at 2500 barrels. The oil tested 27 degrees gravity, company reports stated.

REVIEW OF OIL ACTIVITY

Southern Fields Make Petroleum History; Torrance Gets Flying Start; Associated Shuts Down Wells

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The week just closed added only eleven new producers to the production of the Los Angeles basin petroleum fields, but in several other respects it was a week which will go down in oil history.

It witnessed the completion by the General Petroleum Corporation, at Long Beach, of the Clock & MacWhinney No. 1—deepest producing oil well in the world—at 5972 feet.

479 WELLS SHUT DOWN
Another outstanding feature of the week's activity was the shutting down of 479 active wells in the Kern River field, by the Associated Oil Company. These wells were closed down in order to relieve congested pipe-lines and tank farms. The probability is that they will be back on production again within from four to six months, the Associated says.

PRODUCTION GAIN
The Torrance field made an average through the week of 10,000 barrels per day, but Saturday's pipe-line runs showed that the field is now capable of doing 12,725 barrels per day. Compton is producing 1300 barrels daily from her one well.

GRAIN PRICES GO UP DURING WEEK

Chicago Cash Corn Higher Than in Three Years

December Wheat Made New Record for Crop

Stock Market Takes Rally and Stands Firm

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The most spectacular event of the financial markets last week was the sharp rally which occurred on Wednesday. Apparently almost any particular supporting factors in the news, the market steadily became quite active and firm. Gains of 1 to 4 points were accomplished on a turnover well above the million-share mark.

GRAIN ADVANCES
Perhaps the most significant development in grain prices. Cash corn in Chicago sold at the highest price in three years and the principal futures gained several additional cents. December wheat made a new high for the crop and commanded at least 10 cents more than the price of two months ago.

STEEL OUTPUT WAXES
Industrial news continued to disclose a somewhat spotty condition, with steel production still waning. Distribution of goods as measured by railroad traffic is, however, going on at an extraordinary rate. Carloadings continue to exceed a million a week and railroad earnings are good.

A dollar bill will buy more goods than a million paper marks, yet both are printed on similar material. Purchasing-power depends on what the money stands for. Quantity by itself means nothing.

It is interesting to note that newspaper circulation is measured by the identical standard. Its purchasing-power has little relation to the output of presses, but depends on where the newspaper goes, who gets it, and how it is read. Home-delivery in the home market is to newspaper circulation what a gold reserve is to money.

BEAUTY ROUSES
LANGUID CHORDSContrasting Voices Merge in Restless CadenceFilipino String Orchestra
Ensemble VividOne-Act Play of Dry Humor
Sent by Players

BY BEN A. MARKSON

A hint of languor, lost in the crush of throbbing chords. Strings of fretted instruments that stir with a restless cadence like a pulse aroused by beauty. A symphonic cadence in which are merged the voices of kings, of warriors, hours and princes, peasants and ministers. Something elusive, like a faint perfume. Something tangible, like the taste of citron. Occasional music that is Orientalized into a new flavor. That is an impression of the melody constructed by the Filipino String Orchestra, which played at KJH last night. O. G. Pile was guest-announcer, having been invited by Uncle John to handle the night broadcasting.

The orchestra, appearing through the courtesy of the New Oriental Cafe, has appeared in concerts in The Times Studio in the past, receiving the highest praise of listeners-in. The Filipino musicians have arranged a distinctive ensemble, something differing pleasantly from the usual orchestral group. They take a waltz selection, "Blue Danube Waltz," for instance, and give it an entirely new tone; or, perhaps, the favored Sembrana "Overture," by Rossini, and color its facets with new effluence, burnishing its already brilliant introduction and emphasizing its splendid chorale. They give just a vestige of harmonious music.

STRUMMING STRINGS

The instruments used by this organization consist of a violin, tenor mandolin, mando-cello, guitar and bass guitar. The players are Daniel Manabat, Richard Beltrane, Crisanto Cardenas, Carlos Tempongo, Vincent Pondevilla and Pedro Bandalan.

Chester Williams, who lies in a hospital on a bed of pain, the consequence of a series of operations on his leg, loves radio so much that he took the trouble to arrange a broadcast at KJH for the Speech Arts Guild Players, under the direction of L. W. Cran-dall.

Chester came to KJH with the players. He was carried into the studio. His legs encased in plaster casts, unable to walk, he nevertheless participated in a one-act play presented and also got off a few jokes over the microphone that he had been saving for the occasion.

The play was James Barrie's "The Twelve-Point Look," a domestic bit replete with dry humor. It was presented here by Ethel Barrymore. The characters were taken by Douglas Montgomery, Virginia Scott, Dorothy Gardner and Chester Williams.

ORATION DELIVERED

The Speech Arts Guild Players, directed by Mr. Cran-dall, are just opening their winter season. In connection with the organization, Mr. Cran-dall conducts a school of dramatic art, assisted by Ethel Barrymore and Merle Lee McQuinn. The first public performance will be staged on the 40th inst, with Another word about Chester Williams. He took part in a school oratorical contest last winter and was one of the final six contestants at Los Angeles High School. He delivered his oration, "The Constitution," for Radioland last night.

The forenoon sermon yesterday was given by Dr. Samuel J. Skerington, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hollywood. His sermon will be found in the religious columns of this issue of The Times.

Line telephony as an adjunct to radio broadcast was utilized in sending out an organ recital by Arthur Blakeley, noted organist, and the entire religious service of the First Methodist Episcopal Church from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and also an excellent concert from 7 to 7:30 p.m., by the First Methodist Episcopal Bible

GATHERING TOLD
OF CONVERSIONSFisherman's Club Meeting
Proves InterestingMissionaries in Religious Work ReportMany Old Sinners Shed Tears
in Accepting Christ

BY ALMA WHITAKER

The Fisherman's Club I rather expected to find a gathering of weather-beaten old salts, a distinctly nautical religious rendezvous. But instead I discovered that there are Fishers of Men—and souls.

And the occasion was their monthly meeting at the Bible Institute, where over a particularly good lunch, they brought their stories of triumph and fishing.

T. Horton, fondly known as "Dad," presided as chairman. And before the speeches began I had an excellent opportunity to discover that he is no bass angler.

Conversation, as it will at times, frequently veered to criticism of the missionaries and their exponents. Dad was right there with the ready word of defense, the kindly explanation, the excuse and alibi for the over-zealous brothers and sisters. One suspects that this man takes his commandment ardently to heart, both in precept and practice.

The company, more than 300 strong, included Dr. Cortland Myers, Mrs. H. B. Riley of Minneapolis, whose husband is pastor of the large First Baptist Church in that city, and the numerous "Bible men and women" in charge of many units which go forth to "cull souls for Jesus Christ."

DAVID CANT TALKS

The first to be called on to detail results were those whose work is Viola Hall on Main street, which operates from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week. He told almost 400 men have been personally interviewed on the subject of their acceptance of Jesus Christ since their baptism. How they do them had been won to a definite public profession of their salvation. He had numerous tales to relate of coincidence. Provide it is a 11y wrought, which brought these men into the net, into contact with one or the other of the seventy-five Bible students who are engaged in this fishing under his direction.

All races and classes, many who had become temporary derelicts, many who the speaker felt had drawn their souls from the mire, this waiting gift of knowledge and salvation.

Next came Mrs. Cella Gleason of Long Beach, who told of more than 100 weekly Bible students in her classes, some of them night classes, attended by whole families. She, too, had numerous tales to relate of coincidence. Provide it is a 11y wrought, which brought these men into the net, into contact with one or the other of the seventy-five Bible students who are engaged in this fishing under his direction.

Other speakers who gave equally illuminating reports were Miss Emily Alexander and Miss Myrtle Rose. In this connection, also, we heard about the 10,000 Sunday-school children, the 8000 babies, the 100 students of the correspondence course—all methods of culling souls, all "sky pilots," all fishing for men.

And tender tributes were paid to the late Lyman Stewart, whose generous wealth made so much of this work possible, and to his brother, Milton Stewart, who even now lies at death's door.

LEGION DELEGATES TO BE RIVERSIDE GUESTS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 8.—Riverside will entertain this week, in addition to thousands of Southern California fair visitors, several hundred eastern American Legion delegates on their way to the national convention in San Francisco, on the 15th inst. The first of these is scheduled to arrive here today, and the touring bureau on Friday 125 New Yorkers will be met at San Bernardino with automobiles furnished by Riverside, and San Bernardino legion members and will be taken for a motor trip through the citrus district.

PRAYS FOR FATHERS

Miss Mabel Merrill told of her pupils, classes among high school girls and junior college students. One story cited how one little Miriam, a Jewish girl, had been converted, and prayed for the return and reform of her absent father, who immediately was won to the fold.

Dr. E. P. Lyon runs the Viola Club in Pasadena, where he related that no less than eight cases of projected suicide had been reversed. So much of their work, he said, was just loving counsel and prayer—so many discouraged people, he said, were won to public conversion at Viola Hall. After Brother Nicholson's recent evangelistic campaign.

MAN BURNED TO DEATH IN FIREMotorists Help to Check Blaze Which Threatened to Burn Town of TalbotOne unidentified man was burned to death, and a restaurant and pool hall were destroyed yesterday afternoon in a fire which swept the business section of Talbot, Orange county, threatening for a time to raze the town. Volunteer firemen fought the flames for several hours. High winds at first made it appear that the fire could not be checked, but with the aid of passing motorists, the property damage was confined to a loss of less than $20,000.

The body of the man was found in the ruins of the restaurant, where the fire thought to have started. The charred remains were taken to Huntington Beach where an inquest will be conducted today. Talbot is a small town two miles north of Huntington Beach.

man, the recital of which was a triumph indeed.

Robert Bender told of his labors and problems among the Mexicans which take him to railroad camps, freight cars, and the section houses. One triumphant story told of five men, on whose card game he intruded on a work train, four of whom were finally won to Jesus Christ in this connection it was interesting to note that so many speakers dwell on the fact that so many "strong men shed unashamed tears of contrition" at their conversion. When hardened men can be won to tears, imply, the fight is won.

Claude Fearson, who works among seamen at Los Angeles harbor, short, slight, bespectacled, but with a quite surprisingly strong voice, told of his tribulations. For dock superintendents do not take kindly to missionaries and getting passes to board ships is a daily problem. But he refused to be daunted and his stories of the seamen were among the most interesting of the day. Seamen, he said, are by no means illiterate fellows in the aggregate. Many of them are even college men. And their travels give them a large sophistication. One of his chief jobs is "topping the mouths of the blasphemous." One Englishman told him it was impossible to live a Christian life at sea. Nevertheless, he had the conversion of five salty old sinners to report.

MEET UNDER DIFFICULTY

M. H. Reynolds has the industrial shops in charge. He told of twenty meetings a week, under difficulties, mostly at lunch times, and of the antagonism he met from superintendents—but that the Union Pacific, Pacific Electric and numerous others had accorded him permission and encouragement from headquarters. Personal work, he said, was impossible, almost, except when men were at home sick or otherwise in dire trouble. Then he could meet them through loving material aid and gratitude. He, too, told of strong men in tears and subsequent conversion.

Other speakers who gave equally illuminating reports were Miss Emily Alexander and Miss Myrtle Rose. In this connection, also, we heard about the 10,000 Sunday-school children, the 8000 babies, the 100 students of the correspondence course—all methods of culling souls, all "sky pilots," all fishing for men.

STRIKE IN LABOR AND LIFE, IS PLEA OF PASTOR

Shevington in KHJ Sermon Asks That Man Allow Higher Power to Act Unrestrainedly

Strife and contention in the home, the labor world, in so-the political arena and in international affairs would if men sought ever the right, the will of God, instead of their own little selfish goods and gains."

the one universally acknowledged standard and authority is that of Jesus. When Moses confronted his brethren on the Nile with the question "Why?" they came back at him with a gesture of denial.

"Who made thee a prince and a ruler over us?" they asked. But no one uses that gesture toward

Jesus. We concede Him the right to rule our lives, even though we refuse to yield to that right.

"The late President Harding made his journey across the continent forever memorable, not because of his political speeches, but because of his constant reiteration of the supremacy of the standard and authority of Jesus, not only for the private life of the individual, but the corporate life of the nation and the world."

In that vision hour of his life

the Apostle Paul saw not only the outshinings of the presence of the Lord, but, like the prophet Isaiah in his vision hour, he saw a very humbling view of himself; he caught a glimpse not only of the glory of God in Christ, but of the shadows of his own heart. It was a marvelous experience of self-discovery. And after that he never trusted himself again. From that time he always brought his motives and purposes and exposed them to the light of the judgment of his Lord, and that is my plea to all who may hear me this morning. Bury your motives and purposes in the presence of the Lord.

Dare to uncover them in the light of His glance. Live your inner life in the openness of His presence.

As Brother Lawrence, the saintly monk, said: "Practice the presence of God." Face the Divine challenge of that "why" in your business, in your pleasure, in your social life.

Why are you doing what you are doing? Why are you doing it? Bring your account books and your date books and your record books and subject them to the scrutiny of that challenging "why." And He will tell you whether they are right or wrong. He will tell you whether you are right or wrong, for mark you well, the ultimate test of your life is the measure of your conformity to the standard."

PUBLICITY SEEKERS SCORED BY BROUGHER

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher

preached yesterday on "Are You

Sincere or Playing to the Galleries?" He said in part:

"The sermon on the Mount is indeed a heart-searcher. Jesus announced to us the fundamental principles of happiness and the principles of righteousness. He calls on His disciples to go the second mile in joyous service. He calls upon them to make their righteousness better than the righteousness of the Scribes and Pharisees. He states a fundamental principle when He says: 'Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men to be seen of them, else ye have no reward with your Father who is in Heaven.' There is great need for this warning.

Man is a social being. He lives in relationship with his fellow-men. There is a natural desire to be a little better than others. There is a natural pride which finds gratification in the appreciation and applause of our fellow-men. If you have beautiful house, or a jewel, or fine clothes,

a handsome fact, or a smart child, you are more than willing that others should see and know about them. The more dazzling the treasure, the more willing you are to display it. This inclination holds true in the spiritual life. There is nothing more beautiful than a salutary Christian character. It happens, therefore, in our efforts to live a masterful, happy, useful

Christian life, that we will be tempted to act from wrong motives, and to desire the praise of our fellow-men. We may do the right thing, but it is done in the wrong way. We may seek the accomplishment of the right purpose, but we are prompted by the wrong motive. Right and wrong motives are as far apart as selfishness and unselfishness."

PLACES GOOD DEEDS ABOVE ALL CREEDS

Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin of Temple preached yesterday on "The Need for Tolerance." He said in part:

"Some one has said that truth may be compared to white light pouring through stained-glass windows. It is broken up into many colors. No man living can grasp all of the truth. The limitations of the human brain are such that truth must of necessity be relative and limited. No religious sect, however, pretentious it may be, can hold the monopoly on absolute truth and when it believes that it does then it is characterized by an intolerance that becomes unbearable and dangerous. I am not maintaining that there may not be degrees of truth. Some truths may be nearer reality than others. Some truths may be more valuable than others. But no truth can represent all truth. If religion would lay less emphasis on dogma and more on works that would be nearer the right track and there would be less intolerance."

DECLARES PRACTICE PRECEDES THEORY

Rev. Edgar F. Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian Church, preached yesterday from the scrip-tural text, "If any man will do His will, He shall have the doctrine." He said in part:

"It is by making speeches that an orator is made; by handling the brush and directing the keys that an artist arrives; by doing the experiments of the laboratory that a chemist becomes authoritative, and it is by doing the will of God in life that men become Christians. Practice precedes theory, contrary to popular impressions; experience is always antecedent to knowledge. Men had practiced agriculture a long time before they analyzed soils; the masterpieces of oratory had been delivered before the rhetorical theories were born; the missionary task had been pushed far before the books of the Bible were written. After an art practice its rules are formulated; after an industry's growth its laws are stated; after a government's founding its statutes multiply; after the consciousness of freedom possessed, the American mind, Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation; after the spirit of independence had gripped our original colonies, the Declaration was promulgated. 'Willing to know' is the first step toward knowledge. The story of every great American is the record of a forging will in action. 'If any man will' he can put his life in subjection to the mind of Christ, and he can arrive at sainthood's estate in no other way."

SAYS MODERN MEN FOLLOW JEHOIAKIM

Dr. Bruce Brown, pastor of the South Park Christian Church, preached yesterday on "Jehoiakim's Penknife." He said in part: Old King Jehoiakim, long ago, cut out of the Bible the things he did not like. He set a fashion that is being followed by many today. The strangest and most incongruous thing in all the world is that many who claim to believe the Bible will ignore its plainest teachings. The truth cannot be killed by killing the one who preaches it. The consequences of a sin cannot be escaped by cutting its condemnation out of the Bible. Truth must exist before it can be written in any book and will continue to exist after any book has been destroyed. There is nothing true because it is in the Bible but it is in the Bible because it is true. The wages of sin was death long before the hand of man had penned a word and will continue to be when all His writings are destroyed. Truth was no more manufactured by the Bible than the North Pole was manufactured by the compass. The watch that was set to suit a person would be mighty little value in telling the time of day. People pile weights on the safety valve and then turn the chart is ignored and the helix is twisted. A preacher had as well set a poodle dog to guard a lion as to try to prove the Bible is true. The trouble with the infidel is not that he does not believe but that he will not acknowledge what he knows he believes. He is first unfaithful to himself. When a man can believe that the sun is a candle held in the sky by a little child he can believe the Bible was made by man."

POINTS NEED FOR CHRISTIAN LOVE

Rev. W. E. McCulloch, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, preached yesterday on "When Silence is Impossible." In part he said:

"In the early days of the Christian Church two apostles were brought before the authorities and commanded to speak no more in the name of Christ. They replied, 'We cannot but speak the things which we saw and heard.' These men for years had been companions of Christ, had received instruction from him and had seen his mighty works. With them silence was impossible. They had to utter the message of which their hearts were full. Twentieth-century Christians do not seem to be so fluent of utterance as were those of the first century. Religion is the most intensely interesting of all subjects for conversation but most of us seem afraid to introduce the theme. Down deep in their hearts the great majority of men have a hunger to know the truth concerning Christ. What hinders us from becoming expert witnesses? If we get close enough to the Master and possess a sufficient measure of his spirit, we shall find it impossible to keep silence."

LONELY STRANGERS GLADLY WELCOMED

Mrs. Almee Semple McPherson,

pastor of the Angelus Temple, preached yesterday on "Strangers in the Night." She said in part:

"I want to meet the most lonely-some girl and the most lonesome boy in Los Angeles and introduce them to some of my fine, clean-hearted, sterling young 'Crusaders.' The church if Christ should ever have its doors swung wide and its sweetest smiles of welcome radiating toward the newcomer, especially when that one is a boy or girl who 'back East' was reared in a Christian home and church. This crusade includes two brigades, who are known as the Big Sisterhood and the Big Brotherhood. These young people are taught to seek out and bring into Christian surroundings, the strangers who come within our gates and who, for lack of Christian companionship, become victims to temptations. You may be from the other side of the world but what matters that? You have not been introduced to him? He is your brother, just the same."

TELLS WHY PRAYER GOES UNANSWERED

Dr. Herbert Booth Smith of Im-

manuel Church preached yesterday on "Why Don't We Get More Out of Prayer?" He spoke in part as follows:

"Many prayers go to the 'dead-end' prayer office. They never go any higher than the ceiling. The ordinary Christian is so busy with things on earth that he doesn't take enough time to look up. How many of us would treat our most casual acquaintances the way we

AVERS SHE WAS NAMED HELLCAT

Ten Counts Cited by Wife as Basis for Divorce

Mrs. Goldschmidt Says She Spent $30,000 on Mate

And Then He Left When She Refused Another $500

Judge Hartley Shaw granted a divorce to Marie A. Goldschmidt from Walter N. Goldschmidt when she accused her husband on the following counts, listed in the order of their importance:

He asked her for $3000 to take a course at Stanford University. She borrowed the money, gave it to him, and he spent it in six weeks. Asked what had become of it, he said he had spent it and that there was all there was to it.

He called her a hellcat on occasions too numerous to mention.

He was so voluble when he was angry, and hurled epithets at her in such rapid succession, that it was impossible to give the court any idea of his profusion of terms.

She spent $30,000 on him during the five years they were married, from 1917 to 1923, and he never turned in a cent to the family coffers.

He got angry because she would turn over all her property to him.

He invited her friends to the house and they hurled money of them, all of which was humiliating and embarrassing to her.

He told her to stay in the kitchen when his friends called.

He took his lady friends riding in his wife's car.

He told her she was a skunk.

Because she refused to give him $500 he left her in December, 1925.

Leaves Husband and Ships Child Back by Express

Irene Gardner left her husband, Rene H. Gardner, one day without warning, taking her little daughter with her, the husband charges. The next he heard from her, he says, was a letter from Chicago, in which she said:

"Well, Rene, I am shipping the child back to you via express. You will never hear from me again."

He told the story in Judge Sumner's court, where he was granted a divorce.

"I inquired at the railroad office, and they had received the notice of shipment," he said. "I met the child at the station three days later."

MAN FILES COMPLAINT LIKE WIFE'S

She Asserts Husband Beat Her Up; Later Goes Farther in His Charges

Misunderstandings and blows reigned supreme in the home of Dean Markham and Janice Markham, according to the complaint and cross-complaint of the unhappy married couple on file in the County Clerk's office.

Mrs. Markham asserted that during their three years of married life her husband blacked her eyes, hit her so hard that her nose bled, cut her lips and called her various and sundry offensive names.

But the cruelty was not all on one side, according to Markham, who enumerated the following acts of his wife that caused him to feel that their life together had better end.

Called him names such as "yellow dog."

Was arrested for petty larceny and he was forced to pay her fine.

Hit him in the face and on the body.

Stated that she "didn't love him, never did and never would."

Associated with other men, and as proof of this assertion Markham filed an affidavit, signed by his mother, in which she stated that she had heard her daughter-in-law boast of making money hand over fist from her husband.

That she had received presents from an "elderly admirer."

The couple were married March 1, 1925 and separated June 15, 1927.

Los Angeles leads the way in the standardization of building materials requirements and regulations as the result of the recent election of San Diego of Chief Inspector of Buildings J. J. Backus of this city as president of the Pacific Coast conference of building officials.

With Los Angeles second in building permits in the United States, Chief Inspector of Buildings Backus, who has handled this immense volume of business has become a national figure and contractors and building department officials in all parts of the country are seeking his advice and recommendations as to the requirements for building materials so as to secure economy and protection for the buyer, the property owner and the city.

The Pacific Coast conference, following the San Diego convention, which was attended by building department officials from all of the Pacific Coast cities, is now at work on recommendations to legislative bodies which will bring about uniformity in law which will prove of great benefit to materials manufacturers serving this western market as well as to contractors and to the public.

BILL'S TOAD RAISED TO RANK OF GENERAL

Musters Hopping Army, Routs Indians and Saves the Day

The Toad Army to the Rescue

BY J. E. MITCHELL.

THE truth never hurts anybody, especially if it is told fifty years after they are dead.

At Christmas Tree Charley Whipple, veteran Arizona mining man, last night.

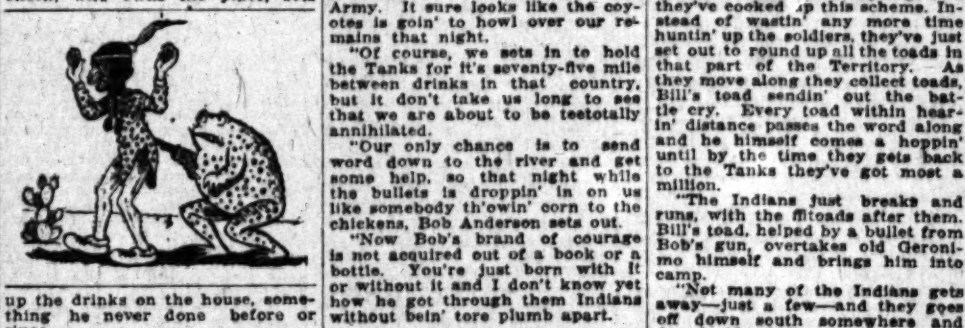

"I am minded the other day of the time we capture Geronimo. The truth about that campaign has been told, but I aim to tell it here and now."

"It is commonly supposed that the Army captures that old Indian devil, but the fact of the matter is that the real heroes of the battle is Bob Anderson, Vinegar Bill and the toad."

"When the cards are all dealt out of the box, however, their names are lost amongst more Army reports than a pack-mule can carry and a search of all the histories in the world won't find them mentioned one time."

SETS UP DRINKS

"Out in the Territory, just the same, everybody gives credit for 'main' the capture and the first time they come into the Arizona Bar after this skirmish I aim to tell you about Paul Mar-chetti, who owns the place, sets up the drinks on the house, something he never does before or since."

"That's fame enough, I reckon. I hear that there have been wars since and there must have been some fightin' before but none of them can compare to that last campaign after old Geronimo and his stinkin' Apaches. As yet Anderson-Busch has not made Cue-ter's last stand famous and the whole Army of the United States is chasin' Apaches but without much luck. Crook has tried it and failed and now Miles has took up the trail. Horses and men is just rude to death. First in comes a report that the old coyote and his gang has run off a bunch of Tom Chidreases cows down around the Grandst. About the time the soldiers gets down there we hear that the Indians has come down and there must have been a ranch-house and killed off all but a couple of the hands. If it ain't that old toad, the old coyote and his gang, here comes the relief. Tearin' through the trap we see Bob and Vinegar Bill.

"Their bridge reins is flappin' and the toad is yellin' and yellin' with both hands. Gallopin' right along with them is the toad. We just know they've brung the troops and

PROBATION SOON WILL BE RARITY

More Than 61 Per Cent of Petitions Denied

Average Age of Criminal Goes Downward

Superior Courts of City Hear Statistics

Superior Courts of Los Angeles county deny 61 per cent of the applications for probation in criminal cases. It was shown by a survey of 500 cases, to be placed before the courts today by Carl May, supervisor of the adult probation department.

"It is apparent, therefore," stated Mr. May in his report, "that probation is not the rule, but the exception."

Mr. May pointed out that of the very 500 cases, to be placed before the courts today by Carl May, 174 were granted probation and the remainder were disposed of in some other manner. He stated that in such cases the defendants have already served six months in jail before being released on probation. It was also reported that the defendants secured on probation during the year have reimbursed their victims through the probation officer, to the extent of $11,443.

It was shown by the report that 28 per cent of the 500 cases considered have previously been in custody, but that 72 per cent are cases of first offenders.

During the past eight years the average age of criminal offenders has dropped from 28 years to 26 years. It was pointed out, and now 67 per cent of these offenders are between 18 and 25 years of age, compared to 47 per cent of these ages appearing in court eight years ago.

Council Asked to Extend Time for City Car Parking

The Board of Public Works has requested the City Council to permit all officers and employees of the city government to park automobiles used by the city on Broadway between First and Third streets for a period not to exceed two hours between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m.

The board declares that employees having business at the City Hall find police tags in their machines and that this works a hardship on the employees. The City Council is not expected to exempt city employees from the no parking and 45-minute parking laws.

SAYS MATE BLAMED PARSON

Wife Seeking Divorce Asserts Husband Chided Preacher for Marrying Them

BY ALMA WHITAKER

It took John H. Hyde just three weeks to discover that the woman he had married was not the one for him and he then went to the minister who had performed the ceremony and complained that the preacher had deceived him by marrying him to a woman who starved and beat him.

Hyde's main grievance against the minister was that he had paid him well to do the job that turned out so poorly, according to the maligned wife, Mrs. Francis May Hyde, whose suit for divorce is on file in the Superior Court. The wife preferred to tell her troubles to the court rather than blame it on the clergyman.

In his protestations to the minister, Hyde contended that she had starved him and beat him over the head with a rolling pin, the wife asserted. This charge, which she asserts is false, caused her great humiliation and embarrassment.

ALL YEAR FUND GROWING

More than $125,000, one-third of the goal, has been subscribed to the 1928 advertising fund of the All-Year Club of Southern California. It was announced yesterday by C. C. Milham, executive secretary. The club is after $350,000.

Nearly 180 volunteers, representing various lines of business take up today the drive for the fund. Twenty-five volunteers were added to the corps of workers following the luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce last Friday, when plans for the campaign were completed.

The committee for the All Year 1928 fund were announced by H. W. Keller, chairman of the club. Following are the subscribers thus far:

Amalgamated Oil Company, Assessor & Muner, Los Angeles; B. A. Chapman, 639 E. 21st St., says: "When I was badly run down kidney trouble developed. I was almost down with my back and sharp pains went through me. The never ceasing hurting across my kidneys began to tell on my health. I felt nervous and tired, and when my kidneys showed signs of being congested I knew it was time something was done. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and it only took three boxes of Doan's to bring about a cure."

WIFE GAGGED WITH PAPER

Woman Charges Husband Stuffed Mouth Full When She Wanted to Argue, So She Asks Divorce

"Stuffing paper in his wife's mouth to prevent her from holding up her end of a domestic argument constitutes extreme cruelty, according to Louise G. Humphrey, whose suit for divorce against Wallace N. Humphrey is on file in the Superior Court.

In her complaint the wife asserted that during a conversation her husband became angry and then stuffed paper in her mouth so she would not be able to make any more remarks. It proved very effective, she admitted, and when one of their children remonstrated with Humphrey he closed the child's mouth in the same way.

The quarrels during their early married life faded into insignificance beside those which took place when Wallace decided that he needed an automobile to ride to work in like other men, the wife declared. When she refused to sign a promissory note to enable him to get the machine, he flew

Feel Lame, Achy--All Worn Out?

DOES early autumn find you dull, tired, achy all over—crippled with a bad back? Are you tortured with sharp, stabbing pains at every sudden move? Do you feel lame and stiff; worn out, nervous and dispirited? Then something is wrong and you should lose no time correcting it! More than likely it's your kidneys. The kidneys, you know, are constantly filtering poisons from the blood. But weak kidneys allow these poisons to accumulate and upset blood and nerves. The effect is soon felt. You suffer daily backache, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities. You feel nervous and depressed—tired, stiff and achy. Don't risk some serious kidney sickness. Help your weakened kidneys before it is too late! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands. They should help you! Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Los Angeles Folks Found Relief:

JOSEPH LEDERER, retired machinist, 1800 E. Jefferson St., says: "The kidney trouble I had came through a cold and the sore, drawn feeling across my kidneys was bothersome. I felt badly for a few days. My kidneys acted too frequently. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, and used them. They eased the backache, flushed and regulated my kidneys. My short experience showed that Doan's were good."

MRS. B. A. CHAPMAN, 639 E. 21st St., says: "When I was badly run down kidney trouble developed. I was almost down with my back and sharp pains went through me. The never ceasing hurting across my kidneys began to tell on my health. I felt nervous and tired, and when my kidneys showed signs of being congested I knew it was time something was done. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and it only took three boxes of Doan's to bring about a cure."

ALBERT PATTON, 3611 Morgan Ave., says: "My kidneys acted too often and I had to get up at night to pass the kidney secretions. My kidneys were in mighty poor shape and my back ached. Severe pains took me in the small of my back when I put my hand to lifting and they made me weak. Doan's Kidney Pills got to the seat of the trouble. They put an end to the backache and kidney weakness. I have every confidence in Doan's."

SAILING FLAPPER CAN CURL HAIR

Special Switches Installed on Steamship for Irons

Recognition for the flapper has been extended now to the steamship companies. E. G. McMicken, passenger traffic manager of the Admiral Line, concedes the modern miss's beguiling perquisites must be encouraged. So he has personally directed the wiring of switches into each state-room, aboard the liner Ruth Alexander, for the flapper's curling iron, heretofore the flapper used to uncrew the electric light bulbs, attach their curling irons, and blow out the switches, leaving themselves in the dark. Very disconcerting. So McMicken, in self-defense, devised individual switches, at the same time equipping the staterooms with cosmetic receptacles and electric lights above the mirrors to assist in her make-up.
